DRY DAYS ON MAUI

The Drouth Doing Considerable Harm.

PLANTATIONS FEEL THE EFFECTS

Hamao May Shut Down—General Social and Business News of Valley Island.

[Special Correspondence.]

MAUI, August 10.—The drought seems to be getting worse instead of better. The atmosphere is getting hotter and dryer. The thermometer is constantly in the 80's. For the last three or four days the trade-winds have ceased blowing, thus making the heat of the summer sun more intolerable. Kama-ainas state that never within the history of the East Maui ditches has the region in the vicinity of their headwaters been so dry. The plantations dependent upon the Hamakua and the two Spreckels ditches are suffering keenly. One of the Spreckelsville ditches is dry; in the other and the Hamakua ditch, the waterway that supplies the Paia and Hamakua plantations, there are but a few inches of water. The water in the Iao valley is also very low, but the Waihee ditch has a better supply.

GENERAL NOTES.

It is rumored that Hamao plantation in Hana district is soon to close up. If this is true, the prevailing high prices for labor and the long-continued drought are the probable causes of discontinuance.

In Wailuku, on the 9th, a team of horses attached to a delivery wagon ran away and threw the Japanese driver out, cutting him badly.

In spite of a rather small attendance of auditors the discussion by the Makawao Debating Society, held in the parlors of the Pala Foreign Church last evening, went off fairly well. The subject debated was, "Resolved, That four years spent in travel is more beneficial to a young man than the same length of time devoted to a college course."

Messrs. W. E. Beckwith and F. E. Atwater led in favor of "travel" and won over Messrs. W. O. Aiken and J. Jones, who contested in favor of a college education. The subject for next meeting is, "Resolved, That the annexation of Hawaii to California will be conducive to the best interests of the former."

By the Helene of the 8th Mr. and Mrs. James Fleming of Grove Ranch returned from a trip to Oregon. By the same steamer Mrs. John Waterhouse of Honolulu arrived on Maui and is a guest of the H. P. Baldwins of Haiku.

By the Sierra, Miss Addie Dowdle, the sister of S. R. Dowdle of the Kaupakalua School, arrived in Honolulu. She will reside in Makawao.

The Italians on Spreckelsville are first-class laborers. They, however, did not come direct from Italy, but were recruited in St. Louis and speak English like native Americans.

During the 6th, Maui people learned of the E. O. Hall & Son fire by wireless telegraph. All hail, Marconi!

Kahului harbor shows a clean expanse of harbor water, there being only one vessel at anchor there, the Otalia Peterson, a four-masted schooner that arrived from Hilo last week, bringing 100 tons of railroad iron for the Kahului Railroad Company. She is loading sugar.

By the steamer Helene, which sails tomorrow, Mesdames H. A. Baldwin and F. W. Hardy depart for a short visit to Honolulu. Miss Maggie Walker, who has been visiting in Kula, returns home, and Miss Mary Green, who has been a guest at Grove Ranch, also departs.

Last week Hon. C. H. Dickey made his jubilee or fiftieth trip to the crater of Haleakala. Next!

During the 8th, Mrs. J. P. Cooke and children went to Olinda House for a long stay.

Punchbowl Homes.

That the people are beginning to appreciate the difference between home in the lowland and one on the higher slopes of Punchbowl, is being demonstrated by the number of handsome residences and pretty cottages being built along the graded roadway that winds upward over the slopes. Terraced grounds surround many of the residences, and the thriving grass and shrubbery attest the suitability of the soil and climate for the making of a beautiful home.

Those who reside on the upper lands express themselves as unwilling to live below in the city proper again under any consideration: the beautiful view out over the harbor and the cooler and more invigorating air of the slopes are appealing more and more strongly to those seeking sites for homes, and the upper streets are rapidly being built upon. Those who have been early to realize the desirability of land on Punchbowl, are fortunate, for the price of lots is steadily rising, and in a few more months a location will be almost an impossibility.

Mrs. Parker's Remains.

KAWAIIHAE, August 7.—The remains of Mrs. Samuel Parker reached here on the Claudine this morning, accompanied by Mr. Parker and about thirty friends. They will be taken at once to the Parker home, Mana, for final interment. Arrangements for the funeral are not yet perfected. Mr. Parker shows the effects of the sad bereavement.

Purser Kihling gives the following report of freight brought to Honolulu yesterday evening on the Wilder steamer Helene, from Maui: 77 sacks corn, 91 sacks taro, 10 hogs, 1 horse, 63 packages sundries.

Hamakua Coffee.

A reporter was shown a sample of coffee grown in the Hamakua district by Abe Louissou. The berry is a most excellent one, known as the peaberry. Mr. Louissou will take off over twenty tons this year as his first crop and will ship it to the San Francisco market. The coming season he expects to take off 100 tons of the same quality of his own, and also to handle for others another 100 tons. Those who have stayed with the coffee growing industry of the Hamakua district have every reason to be confident of success. W. S. Terry, who is cleaning several tons of Mr. Louissou's coffee, proclaims it the best he has ever seen. The beans are perfect in shape and show signs of careful cultivation and handling.—Hilo Herald.
